VOLUME VIII, ISSUE NO. 2

MARCH-APRIL 1973

THE OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF
THE PAPER MONEY COLLECTORS OF MICHIGAN

President's Message

We are approaching the date for our Spring board meeting. As you know we have our board meeting in conjunction with the Michigan Numismatic Society's Spring and Fall conventions. The Spring convention will be held a bit early this year. The dates are March 23, 24, and 25, to be held at the Detroit Hilton in Detroit, Michigan.

The board meeting of the P.M.C.M. will be held on Saturday, March 24 at 2:00 P. M. We would like to see a large turn out of our members. It is gratifying to have a large number participating in the affairs of our organization. Should you not be able to make the meeting, mail in your ideas, suggestions or criticisms; our officers will do their utmost to please you.

We are growing and new members are constantly being added. Three district representatives have been appointed, they are:

1. Harry Boisen, P. O. Box 26388, Station B.
San Francisco, California 94126
2. Michael Crabbe, Jr., P. O. Box 17871
Memphis, Tenn. 38117
3. Edward F. Zegers, Jr., 11804 Pittson Road
Silver Spring, Maryland 20906

We were authorized to appoint these representatives at our November meeting in Detroit. From time to time additional representatives will be appointed to serve in their areas.

We sincerely thank all of our members who have contributed to the "Rag Picker" and those who have donated their time and efforts to make P.M.C.M. such a success.

I am looking forward to meeting you all in Detroit on March 24th, 1973.

FROM YOUR EDITOR

THIRD CLASS MAILING OF THE RAG PICKER STILL REMAINS THE BIG BUG-A-BOO. Some folks have an over abundance of joy winning a state lottery, some years farmers have an over abundance of crops. After each mailing of the Rag Picker, we receive an over abundance of complaints. Folks, we just prepare the Rag Picker and after they are mailed we have no control as to the actual delivery to our members. With the changeover of the mail system to private enterprise the service, especially on third class mail has become progressively, slow on deliveries. However, in the mean time your deluge of complaints is rocking our boat and we are spending needless hours replying to your letters. We want to answer all letters, but we did not intend this to be a full time job, as it is taking some joy out of our meager endeavors. Right now I want to make one thing perfectly clear (sorry Richard for copying your phrase) if you paid $4.00 dues, your Rag Picker is mailed via third class mail and it could take up to eight weeks to get it delivered. Members could help the situation by remitting an additional $1.00 and receive the Rag Picker via First Class Mail.

At our meeting in Detroit on March 24th, this subject will be discussed and a proposal or amendment will be made to change our membership dues to $5.00 and mail the Rag Picker via First Class. As an alternative, if some members still wish the third class mailing that is their prerogative, but please no complaints about delivery of the Rag Picker until at least eight weeks have elapsed on our delivery schedule.

It is also our contention that many members do not read the Rag Picker in its entirety. We still receive letters inquiring about deadlines etc. In our November-December Rag Picker, we printed this schedule on a separate page, but for the benefit of those who did not read it, here briefly are the deadline dates for the balance of 1973. Copy to Editor closes on May 15th, July 15th, September 15th, and November 15th. DELIVERY DATES ARE AS FOLLOWS: June 1st, August 1st., October 1st. and December 1st. The delivery date could be delayed a week if we attend the various Coin Shows we have planned for the balance of 1973. Remember, Harriet and I will bend over backwards to help any and all members, but please use discretion and be reasonable in your requests. And again here is the telephone number for the Editor, Secretary-Treasurer is Saginaw, Michigan 1-517-752-5074. The same number as listed below during the past several months.

MAIL SERVICE WILL IMPROVE SOON

POSTMASTER KLASSEN PLEDGES.....

The above headline sort of contradicts or refutes your Editor's assumption that our over-all mail service is not improving.

Postmaster General Elmer T. Klassen today, pledges immediate improvement in postal operations in response to growing complaints of poor and inadequate mail service throughout the country. He states further that you will see immediate improvement in service, because I AM GOING TO MAKE SURE WE GIVE BETTER SERVICE. Therefore, Rag Pickers when your Rag Picker arrives late, please confer with your local Postmaster and remind him of the pledge made by our fearsome Postmaster General.

He further states, he now knows where the problems are with the take-over twenty months ago by private enterprise. We all had high expectations that miracles would be performed. These miracles have not materialized. The turn-over was a colossal undertaking and we should be somewhat tolerant in our condemnation of our present systems. Another minus for the present system was the infusion of top executives, who had no postoffice experience prior to twenty months ago. Here in Michigan, we have one glaring example of a change that effects and irks many persons living in the Upper Peninsular of our State. Before the change persons living in Marquette or Sault Ste. Marie a distance of 167 miles could have their mail delivered by train or bus the same day. Now, under the new improved system the mail is hauled by truck from Marquette south through Wisconsin through Illinois, Indiana and then to Detroit for distribution to Sault Ste. Marie, a distance of 961 miles and now delivery can be expected within a week. Ask any young student of economics this question. Which service would cost less, operating a truck a distance of 167 miles or 961 miles. The answer would be obvious.

Members of the PMCM have only one reason to complain and that is the slow delivery of third class mail. Here, however each member can correct that situation by remitting an extra dollar for First Class postage in the event $4.00 was originally paid.

In conclusion, your Editor, an avid stamp collector for many years, will defend the clerks at the stamp windows, who have gone all out to cooperate, to help and distribute U.S. stamps to collectors.

Notes of Interest. In this issue a reprint from an interesting factual story, "BURIED ASSETS" by our President, P.H.(Jim) Frans, well done.

The Reserve District outline Map included in the January-February issue was furnished by our man in Washington, Ed Zegers.

All members should especially check the paid ads by our Member-Dealers' ads that appear in our Rag Picker. They deserve your support and business.

FEDERAL RESERVE NOTE EXCHANGE

Chairman: I.L. Gittleman, PMCM #165
P.O. Box 164, Monroe, Michigan 48161

Our list takes on three new members with this issue from the following districts: District E. E. C. Kuykendall Jr., District I. Robert Graham, District K, Joe E. Compton PE. To all a big welcome and may your trades be good and many. One member has asked to have his name removed: Mr. Paul E. Cates, Hart, Michigan. Mr. Cates has been on the exchange list since early in 1967, will miss your name on the list Paul. Thanks for your help.

Another first for this issue of which I am not too proud of is listing past member, which at this point is BAD RISK to trade with Rev. William E. Herbst, last known address, P.O. Box 77, Elma, New York 14059. I sure hope I have to give a full apology to Rev. Herbst, but at this point after many letters and trades by myself and other members, I have no choice. I have removed his name from the list in hopes I would hear some kind of explanation from him or next of kin, as to why he has not returned trades and answered his mail from other members. If someone can come up with a reason, please write and tell me what his problem has been. Enough said, but please be advised of above.

Again I would like all to know, to be listed on the exchange takes only a note to me for an application, this is must for everyone, DO NOT SEND TO EDITOR. This only delays the whole thing and causes more work for Mr. Werve, our editor. Send anything pertaining to this list directly to me. DO NOT SEND TO EDITOR.

The Courteous thing to do when seeking trade or advice is to always include a stamped self addressed envelope. HAPPY HUNTING AND GOOD TRADING.

The following members of PMCM will trade current FRN's at face plus stamped self addressed envelope.

NEWS FROM THE NATION'S CAPITOL

By Ed. Zegers

Hello from the Fifth District:

Well, the only thing which has become evident in the past few days is that the 1969D Federal Reserve Notes are appearing in the high seventies now and we have Shultz signed notes in most of the higher denominations. It becomes a question now of who and where the first report of the "B" blocks of the 1969D notes will appear.

I am happy to report that I recently received a letter from Jim Frans selecting me as a Regional Representative for the PMCM. I am pleased and happy to respond in this offer and appreciate my selection. I will try to be deserving of the appointment. Thanks.

By the way, for those of you who are $5.00 collectors, my list of serial numbers for the 1969 and 1969A are enclosed as I received them from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. The list for the 1969B Star Notes is not yet available. By the way, the corrected list of serial numbers for the 1969C Star Notes is also not available yet. As I mentioned before I have a 1969C J03695314*. Can any one report higher numbers and if so, how much higher? I would like to reply to another's pickers observations. I have also experienced some strange finds in Star Notes in the last few months. Here in the D.C. area they are still using the last of the 69B Star Notes and they are several million below the cut off figures. I have not yet found the first 1969C or 1969D Star Note from this district, nor do I have any reports of them from the other District 5 traders. I wonder what is going on in the B.E.P. to have such strange events. Couple this one along with the higher serial numbers from the 10th District and it seems that we have something going on. BACK ROOM CLEANING?

I would also like to add my observations to those of the Same Picker (James Morris) that I have also noted many missing three nine notes and stars in their place. I have gone through many notes also and have run across this. I believe this to be more than just a mere coincidence. I am glad that some one else thought to write it, because it brought it to my mind immediately.

I still have had no report of any one having in his possession some of the missing 1969A notes I am looking for. Does any one have any of the following notes beginning with these serial numbers: B00XXXXXXD, B14XXXXXX*, C00XXXXXXB, E00XXXXXXD, E10XXXXXX*, J05XXXXXX* ?

Please write and let me know. Happy Hunting and Trading.

CU, Ed Zegers

Dear Editor:

This is a report on some of the paper money activities at the 18th. Annual Convention of the Numismatic Association of Southern California held at the Los Angeles Hilton Hotel, February 22nd through 25th. The Bureau of Engraving and Printing displayed the famous "Billion Dollar Exhibit", which included 1.2 billion dollars worth of government bonds (2 $500 million bonds and 2 $100 million bonds). They also displayed Uncut sheets of dollar bills (32 to a sheet) both before and after the over-printing of the seals and serial numbers.

They hadan uncut sheet of 100 dollar bills and a sheet of $1000,000 bills, all with serial number 00000000, of course.

They also displayed counterfeit money next to the real thing and pointed out the differences in the two.

Action on the bourse floor was fairly active in paper money. There were many dealers present with paper, both U.S. and foreign. Some of the foreign paper money was so beautiful (Laos, Indochina, Biafra, Singapore, Israel, Brazil, Russia and Germany) that I was compelled to purchase some and start a collection of foreign paper money. I never knew before how beautiful some foreign money is.

In the Exhibit Room, there were a half dozen exhibits on paper money. First place trophy was won by an exhibit on Paper Money of Mexico. I was fortunate to win the second place trophy for my exhibit entitled "Dorothy Andrews Elston-Kabis". This display involved two $1 Federal Reserve Notes, one Series 1969 and the other 1969A. About two year ago, I sent these two notes to the then Treasurer of the United States, Dorothy Andrews Kabis. The former Mrs. Elston had just married Mr. Walter Kabis. Her signature was changed from Elston to Kabis on our one dollar bill, the first time ever that one person had signed their name two different ways on our nation's currency.

Mrs. Kabis was kind enough to send me, in addition to the two signed notes, her wedding announcement and picture, which I also placed in my display.

I would be very interest in knowing if any of my fellow "Rag Pickers" have obtained either or both of the above mentioned signatures on a piece of paper money. These could become very valuable in the years to come, since no more can ever be made.

Happy Rag picking, and may you all find that one note of your dreams.

"BURIED ASSETS"

By P. H. (Jim) Frans, JMC 2.

One hundred and thirty-six years ago, in 1830 William G. Butler of Hartford, Connecticut came on horseback to the mouth of the Kalamazoo River from Indiana. It was his purpose to establish a fur trading post. Mr. Butler found nothing but a barren wilderness, but returned to his home full of enthusiasm. In 1832, he returned by way of St. Joseph and Lake Michigan, accompanied by his wife and two children. He brought with him a stock of trinkets and whiskey to trade with the Indians for furs. He located just a short distance up the Kalamazoo River, built a log warehouse and home, and started business.

In 1837, Oshea Wilder and Sons of New York, purchased from the Barnes family (the patentees), a large tract of land just below the trading post of William Butler and laid out the village of Singapore. Wilder was a surveyor and he carefully laid out the village with streets, sixty feet in width and alleys fifteen feet wide. The two main streets, River and Broad Streets, were eighty feet wide. The original plat map entered for record in Allegan County shows four hundred and ninety-three lots, approximately 25' x 90', and one block of three acres to be used for a saw mill.

Beautiful forests lined the banks of the Kalamazoo River and the streets of the village were named after the trees of the forest, such as Beech, Walnut, Chestnut, Pine, Oak, Cedar and Cherry. Three other streets were named Detroit, Broad and River Streets.

During 1837, a saw mill was erected. This mill was equipped with a rotary steam engine. The total cost of the mill and equipment was $85,000. Unnecessary expenses and poor management made the financial burden too heavy to bear and after a few years the company became bankrupt. In 1842, a new mill was built. Shortly after commencing operations, it burned. The old original mill was again put in operation, but again failure befell the company and it was sold.

In 1837, Wilder and Sons built the Astor House. This was said to be the finest hotel in Michigan at that time. It measured forty by sixty feet and was three stories high. Many stories have been told about the parties and dances that were held at the Astor and many a "honeymoon" was spent in its spacious quarters.

The Bank of Singapore was founded in 1837 by Oshea Wilder. The bank building was the only brick building in the village. All of the bricks were shipped in. The bank was financed and we use the word loosely, by the Lancaster Bank of Lancaster, Massachusetts, whose President was James G. Carter. The Bank of Singapore issued notes in $1, 2, 3 and 5 denominations.

In quoting from Dr. Thomas' history of Allegan County we read, "I have never known the extent of business transacted by the Singapore Bank, nor on what financial basis it was established, but the purchasing power of Wild Cat money can better be understood when we know that people had to be informed at all times as to the standing of the bank before the money could be accepted in trade. My grandfather paid $40 in Singapore bills for a darning needle and he had accepted those bills at par a short time before. I was told by men who were boys in 1837, that they had pockets full of Singapore bills after the bank failed and used to trade with it as "play money".

Mr. Levi Loomis told an interesting story about the Singapore Bank. Mr. Loomis was born in New York state in 1810 and came to Singapore in 1835. He helped to build the first mill there. His sister, Emily, was the wife of the first settler, Mr. William G. Butler.

There was a scarcity of boots and shoes for the lumbermen in the village and Mr. Loomis, though a carpenter by trade, decided to go into the boot and shoe business. He purchased a supply from back East. When the boots and shoes arrived, the lumbermen offered him bills on the Singapore Bank in payment. These he refused to accept, and demanded "real money" or "no deal". There were about two hundred men in the village and in the woods. They needed and wanted boots. There was no other place where they could obtain them. Mr. Loomis preferred to keep the merchandise, rather than accept the Singapore notes. This state of affairs was rather embarrassing to the officers of the Singapore Bank and so they arranged to redeem this Singapore notes with eastern money in time for Loomis to remit to the eastern dealers. Mr. Loomis agreed to this and his entire stock was sold out. In exchange he had Singapore notes in the amount of $600.

The day was fixed on which the bank was to redeem the money, but as might have been expected, the bank was not prepared to pay him off for four days. Then a draft was issued on an eastern bank (probably the Lancaster Bank). After a short time, it came back as worthless. Things went on until more than another month had passed and Mr. Loomis became desperate. His credit and honor depended on the payment of his debt and he resolved to have good money at any cost. Robert Hill, the cashier of the local bank slept in one of the bedrooms of the Loomis home, with other boarders. Being cashier, he did not rise as early as the others. Mr. Loomis suspected that Hill carried with him the good money of the bank and slept with it under his pillow. Loomis formed his plan. One morning, after the others had gone down for breakfast, Mr. Loomis went to Hill's room, entered and locked the door and awakened Hill. He laid the Wild Cat bills on the bed, drew a pistol and told Hill that exchange had to be made, then and there. Hill was surprised, indignant and began to protest, saying he could do nothing until he went over to the office. "I know better", said Loomis, "and you will be carried down these steps, unless you fulfill your promise and make the exchange." These words, with a look of determination and a pistol pointed at his head, were sufficient. Hill raised up from his pillow and from underneath it took a roll containing about one thousand dollars in genuine capital of the bank and gave Mr. Loomis $600. for his Singapore notes.

"Buried Assets (Contd.);

Banking laws of the day required each bank to have on hand a reserve of hard money, or specie. To meet this requirements without hampering their speculation too much, the bankers maintained a centrally located fund of specie. This would be dispatched to any bank that expected a visit from the bank examiners.

While the gold was being tallied at Battle Creek, Kalamazoo or Allegan, a messenger would go ahead of the examiners to the next auditing point. One time the specie was being shipped from Allegan to Singapore, a distance of fifty miles by river, or twenty-five miles by land. An Indian was carrying the sack of gold and silver in his canoe, heading for Singapore. While rounding a bend in the river near New Richmond, the canoe struck a sunken log in the river and over turned. The sack of money sunk. When word reached New Richmond, where the examiner was stopping for the night, the bankers staged an impromptu celebration and made the examiner the guest of honor. The entertainment and feasting continued until a crew of men recovered the sack from the river with a pair of tongs. When the examiner arrived in Singapore, Wilder's bank produced the damp and liquid reserve. The bank was reported solvent. The tongs used in retrieving the gold are still on display in Saugatuck.

The Singapore saw mill produced 175,000,000 board feet of lumber. It established a record of 60,000 feet cut in one twelve hour shift. Much of the lumber from Singapore was used in the restoration of Chicago, after Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over the lantern.

Mail delivery was very irregular in Singapore, usually once in two weeks the mail was brought in, either by Indians who came by canoe down the river or by lumber rafts. A Mr. Fairchild is credited as being the first mail carrier. He traveled on horseback. Postage was twenty-five cents a letter and was paid by the receiver. Each extra sheet was subject to extra postage. To avoid the extra charge, there being no envelopes, the address was either written on the reverse side of the paper or a sheet of foolscap was used as a wrapper. The extra part of the letter was written on the wrapper, by using skim milk instead of ink. This could not be seen until heated by fire, when it would become legible.

Singapore flourished as long as there was lumber to be cut nearby. Excessive demands to rebuild Chicago resulted in a speed-up of operations that sealed Singapore's doom. Nine years after the Chicago fire the community started its decline. Soon there was but one family left in the town, Jim Nichols. This stubborn fisherman moved his family into the three story house after everyone else had packed up and moved. By this time, the restless sand had started its march on the ghost town. Soon sand had taken over the first floor of the Nichols' home, so the family moved to the second floor. In time this floor became a sand dune and the family moved to the third floor. When at last it was evident sand would take that over too, Nichols gave up the unequal struggle and moved away. The Nichols' house was the last to disappear beneath the sand.

"Buried Assets (Contd.):

A sand hill now covers the site of the buried village. Beneath it is the brick bank, the church and the homes and streets of the village. At one time the spire of the church is said to have peered through the sand, but the dunes shifted again and covered all the evidence of the past. Now nothing more than a dreary waste of sand is seen and the piles of sawdust, part of which have been used in building the roads through the dunes, are still visible.

Today, if one searches dilligently, there is evidence to mark the site of Singapore. Slab wood and sawdust can be located at the water's edge. Further inland, a fallen chimney marks the site of one house. In another place, a pile of broken clam shells is evidence of human habitation.

Somewhere under the restless eternal shifting sands is Singapore. One gets an eerie feeling when standing in the center of what must have been a thriving community. Hundreds lived, loved, worked, fought and died, leaving scarcely a trace to mark the passing. Still, Singapore was a town that had the decency to disappear when its period of usefulness was ended.

From Cincinnati Ohio:

Seek and you shall find, crazier thing have happened. Before I got a hundred $1.00 bills 1969C, District 4, Cleveland C-01A to D-100A, behold a 1969D Star as a replacement for I for 06. In the 69C bundle was a 69D star. I've bought $12.00 worth of these 69B-69C-69D notes. This is the first time for a 69D Star.

I've still to find one Rag Picker I've written to that has the 1969B-1*. If any body has some I would just like one. I've enjoyed the Rag Picker very much. I am a new member to "Rag Picker."

Being disabled I have to write to other traders for the material I need to fill out my sets. Any Rag Pickers out there who want to trade I have notes from 1963 to 1969D to trade.

Please write me. All letters answered.

I need District Notes that end with any letter except A. Will trade for other notes, if I have any thing any body wants.

Dear Ragpickers:

This listing of ODD BALL ending numbers of my fellow trade-mates are ones they are trying to collect.

These ODD BALL endings go back to DILLON series to present series.

You know the joy of receiving an ending numbered note to fill a spot. This is the fun of our hobby, trying to complete our sets. Please try to help me help these other trade-mates get their ending numbers. Even (1) one ODD BALL ending number will help.

Numerals in parenthesis indicate quantity needed.

Names of trade-mates needing these ODD BALL ending numbers will be furnished upon request.

Thanking You,

George Keigley

YEA GADS....$1.00 FR NOTES NOW GLUED IN PADS OF 25.

From Phil A. MacKay, Box 235, Osceola, Mo. 64776

The City National Bank of Kansas City is the major bank in the United Missouri Bankshares Inc., a bank holding Company. The Holding Company owns seven or ten Missouri Banks including one in St. Louis, the St. Louis Federal Reserve District (District 8).
The City National Bank is a correspondent bank for many other banks from Illinois to Texas. The bank is across the street from the Fed.
Res. Bank of Kansas City (District 10).

Last week a request was made for uncirculated notes, to the teller at 1 of 30 windows. He is in charge of supplying payrolls to employers, who pay wages in cash. The reply, "We have none. All our notes are in pads of 25 notes."

These pads are very similar to ordinary scratch pads. The backing is similar to a red wax. Because the pads had been mixed up, it was some time before 100 consecutive numbers could be put together.

The intent of this major bank can be understood. It is impossible to remove one note from the pad of 25, without tearing the notes quickly. Most notes torn from the pad will be considered uncirculated, but not all notes will be so valued. A trace of red may be noticeable on the top edge of the notes.

The first notes of each pad (#1 - #26 - #51 - #76) are the most difficult to remove without the red mark being noticeable.

Only time will tell, if the "Pad" of notes will effect collectors of uncirculated $1.00 Federal Reserve Notes.
